

Company XIV | Théâtre XIV
Sub Assistant Stage Manager

Pay: $22/hour for training / $160 per show
Schedule: to be determined with Production Manager

COMPANY XIV

Company XIV fuses dance, theater, circus, opera, burlesque and decadent design to create one-of-a-kind theatrical experiences inspired by the court culture which flourished under the reign of Louis XIV. Founded by Artistic Director Austin McCormick in 2006, the company produces several 360-degree immersive productions annually at its 175-seat Théâtre XIV in Bushwick, Brooklyn. XIV's commitment to pushing boundaries is unparalleled, employing dozens of eclectic artists annually in immersive and genre-defying baroque burlesque productions. Recent mainstage events include Nutcracker Rouge, Cinderella, Seven Sins, and Queen of Hearts.

POSITION

Sub Assistant Stage Manager - Company XIV seeks a non-union, detail-oriented, sophisticated, smart, and friendly individual who will serve as a part-time/sub Assistant Stage Manager for Cocktail Magique and/or Queen of Hearts. This is a part time position, perfect for someone wanting to introduce themselves to the company, with potential for more full time employment in the future. Responsibilities include sweeping, mopping, prop and/or costume presets, prop/costume tracking, spotlight cues, etc.

We're looking for individuals who possess a willingness to jump in and help with all departments in an emergency and the ability to work well with and communicate well with a variety of personalities in a dynamic, immersive environment. Must be able to problem solve at a moment's notice and anticipate problems before they happen, whether it be safety concerns for performers or audience, or any elements needing repair. Please be genuinely excited to be part of a small team!

Company XIV celebrates human diversity and encourages all qualified candidates to apply, including LGBTQIA+, people of color, immigrants and differently-abled people.
