ABOUT COMPANY XIV

"The emphasis was on beauty and excess ...the performers, gorgeously appared, are superb and their delight is intoxicating." —The New York Times

Company XIV fuses dance, theater, circus, magic, opera, burlesque, cocktails and lavish design to create one-of-a-kind theatrical experiences inspired by the court culture which flourished under the reign of Louis XIV. Founded by Artistic Director Austin McCormick in 2006, the company produces several 360-degree immersive productions annually at Théâtre XIV in Bushwick, Brooklyn. Company XIV's commitment to pushing boundaries is unparalleled, employing dozens of eclectic artists annually in immersive and genre-defying works. Recent productions include Nutcracker Rouge, Petite Rouge, Queen of Hearts, Seven Sins and Cocktail Magique. Learn more at www.companyxiv.com.

CASTING DANCERS

Strong classical technique, theatrical impulses and special skills,

Company XIV is seeking classically trained, female presenting dancers for the 17th anniversary season of NUTCRACKER ROUGE. Applicants should be comfortable performing in an immersive, interactive and unconventional environment with Baroque Burlesque™ themes and partial nudity. Special skills in circus, aerial and music are a plus.

Applicants must be able to legally work in the United States—the company is not able to provide visas or housing.

Cast members must be available every performance, including Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, and New Year's Eve.

Company XIV celebrates human diversity and encourages all qualified candidates to apply, including LGBTQIA+, BIPOC, immigrants and people with disabilities.

TO APPLY

The invited audition will consist of phrase work and partnering. To be considered for an invitation please submit resume, headshot and dance reel to auditions@companyxiv.com. Include "DANCER" as the subject. Qualified applicants will be invited to audition in person.
